

LARRY KREIDER

Biography

* * *

Larry Kreider is a native of Colorado and has lived in the Orlando area since 1987. He graduated with a degree in Sociology and Biblical Studies from John Brown University in Siloam Springs, Arkansas, and is Trustee Emeritus. He has also studied at Reformed Theological Seminary in Orlando, Florida.

Previously, Larry was the National Director for Youth for Christ/USA. In his twenty-five years with Youth for Christ, he served in Beirut, Lebanon, California, Nebraska and Texas. Larry currently serves as the President of The Gathering/USA, Inc., a national outreach movement formed in 1978 that teaches men leadership principles and motivates them to be active in their families, churches and communities. Through The Gathering ministry, about a half million men in 16 U.S. cities (and soon to begin in South Africa) have been mentored and served. The Gathering has developed a following among many prominent business, professional and government leaders nationwide.

Larry is a contributing author for The Life Application Bible, Parents and Teenagers, Practical Christianity and Moving Beyond Belief as well as a contributing editor for New Man magazine. He is also the author of Bottom Line Faith, published by Tyndale House. Larry is the co-author of The Four Priorities: Life Is Too Short to Get It Wrong, an adaptation from a successful 40-week discipleship program that he co-wrote for The Gathering.
